

WEEK 5_REFLECTION

I learned about the Bootstrap grid systems and the responsive components. I also learned about the different bootstrap components and utilities to improve the webpage. The challenge that I encountered is to pick a good and compatible bootstrap for my website and designing it. I solved this by trying different bootstrap components and checking how it looked on my webpage. I also adjusted the layout and styling until they matched the overall design. The improvement that I made was making my webpage more responsive and organized by using the Bootstrap grid system and responsive components.
